ADDITIONAL DEATHS AND DAM-AGE EXPECTED TO BE RE-PORTED TODAY

Austin, Minn., Aug. 21.—(UP)—Eight persons were killed, at least 40 persons injured and property damage estimated at $1,500,000 caused by a tornado that swept its way across two southern Minnesota counties and a section of northern Iowa late Monday.

Additional damage and deaths were expected to be reported today with the resumption of communication from several northern Iowa towns where destruction was said to exceed that of the Minnesota district. Several of the injured persons near here were not expected to live.

Although greatest damage was caused in the vicinity of Austin, the death toll and damage estimates of other counties near here was expected to be great. Five persons were known to have been killed here and 45 persons injured, 15 seriously and three critically.

Property damage known to exceed $500,000 was caused here as the twister tore down Main street, leaving in its path a trail of unroofed houses and tangled debris. A new $250,000 theater and several other buildings were totally destroyed.

The storm travelled approximately 100 miles through Minnesota before swinging due south to enter Iowa. Through its course it demolished scores of farm buildings, touching its swirling funnel to the ground and then jumping through for a mile or more.

Houses were twisted from their foundations and groves of trees left in a mass of twisted wreckage. Entire buildings were lifted from their foundations. The body of Mrs. Chris O. Hagen, wife of a farmer living near Glenville, Minn., was lifted from the ground near her home, carried a half mile, and deposited in a slough.

Meager reports reached here from Iowa indicating that cyclones struck at least two towns and rains of cloudburst proportions were general through the northern part of the state. At least two persons were reported killed at Twin Lakes, a summer resort, and extensive property damage caused at Nevada.

No complete check could be made today of the damage caused in the district near here. Roads were badly washed and blocked with fallen trees and telephone lines were down.

Light and water service were restored to Austin early today as an accurate check of damage began. One of the freak tricks of the storm was the piling together of 50 motor cars on a street corner. A man caught in the street stood there during the entire course of the storm and was unhurt.

Search for the injured and perhaps killed today was under the direction of the Minnesota national guard. Members of the Austin American Legion post began reconstruction work here.

Austin, Minn., Aug. 21.—The death list of the tornado that struck southern Minnesota and northern Iowa late Monday follows:

August A. Neubauer, 40, Austin, auto mechanic.
Harold Baumgartner, 12, Austin.
Marvin Baumgartner, 43, Austin.
Mrs. Harry Johnson, Austin.

Mrs. George Steers, 50, Havelock, Ia.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Aug. 21.—A heavy wind and rain storm, one of several which swept Iowa and southern Minnesota in the last twelve hours, was reported today to have struck West Branch severely.

No deaths or injuries were reported, but it was said many of the flags and banners with which the town was decorated for Herbert Hoover's homecoming had been torn down by the storm.

HOMECOMING

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 21.—(UP)—Gov. Adam McMullen, republican, declined the invitation to attend Herbert Hoover's homecoming at West Branch today because he already is familiar with the presidential candidate's "unfavorable" stand on the farm question.

McMullen said he had talked with the republican candidate and being familiar with his views saw no reason for attending either the homecoming or Hoover's conference with farm leaders.

By PAUL R. MALLON

West Branch, Ia., Aug. 21.—The orphan son of the village blacksmith who left here 45 years ago with a knapsack on his back came today, a republican presidential nominee to wander through the scenes of his childhood.

Back to the old swimming hole with the mud bank slide, back to the barn where he used to hide his "Leather Stocking Tales," barred from his Quakers' household, back to the white frame house where he was born, back to the modest graves of his father and mother on the hillside—Herbert Hoover was to walk again as the most distinguished citizen this town ever produced instead of a quiet tothead lad of ten.

And is the town wrought up about it? Mrs. Curran, his school teacher, has baked a cake. A big circus tent has been hired and set up for him to deliver tonight his speech to the farmers about his farm relief program. White-whiskered old citizens who "knew him when" are busy pointing out to strangers the spot where he conducted his experiment on the explosive qualities of tar and nearly burned the town.

The big maple tree where the mother owl nearly scratched his eyes out is a shrine where groups of people stand around and stare as if they could see the hero of the legend in action.

Flags and pictures fly from every spot on Main street where a tack could be lodged. The town band has been practicing studiously. And the one magnetic word on every lip is "Hoover."

At least eight deaths and damage estimated at $1,500,000.

Five persons were fatally injured in Austin and the damage here was estimated today in excess of $500,000.

At least 16 persons were in the hospital here today, several so seriously injured they may die.

Although Austin communication lines were repaired during the night many towns in this section were still without telegraph or telephone lines. It was feared the injured list and perhaps the deaths might be swelled by reports from other towns as the lines were repaired.

Company H, 135th Infantry, Minnesota national guard, assisted by volunteers from the American Legion here policed the stricken area today and brought relief to the injured and homeless.

Fifteen families were said to be without shelter after their homes had either been completely destroyed or were moved from their foundations.

Hundreds of dwellings had broken windows and the debris from broken trees, telephone and telegraph poles fled the streets.

The twister which apparently had its inception at Emmons in Freeborn county, travelled east and south through Twin Lakes, and Glenville, then turned north toward Austin, thence south into Iowa.

The tornado first passed along the outskirts of the city and then returned through the center of the city where most of the damage was done.

Winona, Minn., Aug. 21.—(UP)—Williams Watkins, Minneapolis labor leader and the opponent of Senator Henrik Shipstead in the June primaries, failed to be seated at the Minnesota State Federation of Labor convention here today.

Watkins was refused a place in the organization when the credentials committee reported that his entrance would be in violation of the constitution which treats with the principles of membership.

The constitution states in effect that no person shall be admitted to membership who has affiliations with unpatriotic organizations.

Watkins, although not openly charged with communistic connections, was said to have "communistic sympathies" since he had attended some of their meetings.

The refusal of the committee to accept Watkins' credentials was said to have closed the door of the federation upon the labor leader.

Watkins had submitted a statement disclaiming membership with the communist party and pledging support of the federation.

Meanwhile action on the construction of the proposed dams on the international boundary was delayed. The International Falls group which was said to favor the proposal was apparently undecided whether to push the matter before the convention or allow it to die.

Sentiment against the dam proposal was said to outweigh the sentiment for it. Some action may be taken late today, however, or tomorrow.

Nearly 250 delegates attended the convention today. The meetings were presided over by Albert Munson, Winona.

The legislation committee made a report on several relatively unimportant problems.

Senator Henrik Shipstead, candidate for re-election on the farmer-labor ticket, and Victor Olander, secretary of the Illinois Federation of Labor, will address the convention tonight at Lake Park.

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 21.—(UP)—Mike O'Neal McCarty, former paying teller of the Merchants National Savings Bank and Trust Co. of Los Angeles, Cal., charged with absconding with $20,000 of the bank's funds Aug. 11, was held here today by federal officers.

NIGHT CLUBS

Washington, Aug. 21.—(UP)—Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant United States attorney general, returned today from a trip to California to supervise personally the prosecution of New York night club operators charged with violating the prohibition laws.

Mrs. Willebrandt does not intend to go to New York to take an active part in the grand jury presentation, but will direct the case from her desk here, it was said.

She refused to discuss the cases, but it was intimated at her office that the wholesale questioning of cabaret patrons before the grand jury was not at her direction or even known to her until she read of it in newspapers.

Assistant Secretary of Treasury Seymour Lowman whose "four horsemen" raided New York night clubs, said his bureau was not interested in the manner of prosecutions, as they had turned over all evidence to the justice department.

TRAINMEN VOTE

IT IS REPORTED

Cleveland, O., Aug. 21.—(UP)—Members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen on lines west of Chicago whose wage increase demands were recently rejected, are voting heavily to strike, A. F. Whitney, brotherhood president, said here today.

The strike vote was ordered last week after the collapse of a conference in Chicago at which the brotherhood rejected a wage increase offer with the provision that certain working rules be abolished.

"Ninety-five thousand trainmen were eligible to vote," Whitney said, "and 85,000 have cast ballots. The general trend is for a strike."

The result of the vote is to be announced either here or in Chicago, on Sept. 2.

The dead: Harold Young, engineer of the passenger train, Charles Patton, brakeman, and Carol Kline, brakeman.

An unidentified man, said to have been "beating" his way on the freight, was probably fatally injured. The passenger train was west bound and the freight was enroute to St. Louis.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 21.—(UP)—A globe-girdling flight in a multi-engined plane is planned by Lieut. Leigh Wade, pilot of one of the four army planes which made an epochal round-the-world trip in 1924, he revealed today.

According to Wade, an attempt will be made to set a new time record for globe-girdling by air. The ship will carry a crew of four. No date has been set for the proposed flight.

Red Wing, Minn., Aug. 21.—(UP)—One of the four charred victims of the disastrous Chicago-Twin City bus crash and fire near here yesterday was identified today as Robert Hendricks, St. Louis dental student, enroute to Minneapolis to attend the Dental Association convention.

Little remained of the other three bodies. The fire which swept the bus immediately after it had collided with a fish hatchery truck on a turn of the highway, burned the bodies beyond recognition.

At an early hour today no one had claimed any of the victims.

Meanwhile five of the 11 passengers remained in the hospital here, two so seriously injured that little hope was held for their recovery.

Walter Meyer, Wayzata, driver, and W. J. Gardner, Minneapolis, a passenger, were so badly burned that their recovery was doubtful.

Out of one of the worst accidents ever recorded in this vicinity, Walter Pickard, St. Paul boxer, emerged an outstanding hero.

It was Pickard, who despite a fractured arm, broke open a door which permitted two of the passengers to escape and who pulled three others to safety.

The 20-year-old youth said he attempted to pull the driver from his seat but that the skin on Meyer's hands came off like gloves. The youth then grasped Meyer around the head and pulled him from the bus.

Pickard also rescued the two women from the burning wreckage.

"The fire was so bad," Pickard said, "that I couldn't get the others. I'm sorry, but it could not be helped."

Boettcher cited the Bible and prevailing uneasiness throughout the world in support of his contention of a world conflict.

"The world is on the brink of Armageddon as mentioned in the Bible, when every nation will be in combat," he said.

CONTRAST BETWEEN CLEVE-

STRIKING IN ALL DETAILS

By PERCY B. SCOTT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 21.—From yellowed manuscripts and the recollections of half a dozen old timers comes this story of a democrat who was notified in Albany 44 years ago that he had been nominated for president.

Today, while hordes of strangers were streaming into the New York capital for the Smith notification ceremonies Wednesday night, there was only a handful of persons who could recall that day in 1884 when Grover Cleveland accepted the nomination.

The contrast between that even of July 29 forty-four years ago and the ceremony planned for Governor Alfred E. Smith is striking in almost every detail.

Less than 100 persons heard the address of notification by William F. Villard of Wisconsin and the acceptance speech of Cleveland. Tomorrow night it is expected that 100,000 will see the event, and that millions will hear it over the radio.

The committee members, representing 38 states and 10 territories, climbed into open victorias, drawn by teams, and drove up to the mansion.

There in the east salon, Cleveland's friends, numbering less than 100, were awaiting the committee. Promptly at 4 P. M. Cleveland came down the stairway of the mansion into the salon.

The governor took his place and received his honor. Then in a clear, conversational tone, he accepted. His statement was confined entirely to "good government" and "democratic principles." He discussed no issues and made no attack.

Cleveland's acceptance was contained in 600 words. Smith's will require 8,000 words.

Cleveland accepted in less than eight minutes; Smith will take an hour.

Cleveland was photographed and less than a dozen newspapermen were present. Tomorrow night more than 200 correspondents will report the affair, and a barrage of movie and still cameras will be in action almost continually.

Cleveland raised no issue. Smith has promised to discuss many of them.

TO SUPPOSEDLY AID
DEAF AND DUMB

Curtiss Field, N. Y., Aug. 21.—(UP)—Officials at Curtiss Field have barred stunt flights in which deaf and dumb persons seek to be cured by being frightened into recovering their hearing and speech.

M. M. Merrill, superintendent of the field, said the ruling was made after Julius Schaeffer, 10-year-old mute, was taken aloft, and, although badly frightened, failed to regain the power of speech.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children took the matter up with Julius' parents after the flight.

FOUR NATIONS PREPARE SEARCH AND RELIEF EXPEDITIONS

AMERICAN COAST GUARD CUT-TER MARION IN THE

New York, Aug. 21.—(UP)—Bert R. Hassell and Parker D. Cramer, who left Illinois Thursday in their plane the "Greater Rockford" on a three-stop flight to Stockholm, Sweden, today were hours overdue and still unheard from at Mt. Evans, Greenland, the destination of the second leg of their ambitious flight.

Hope for their safety waned as four nations prepared search and relief expeditions. Among the ships in the vicinity of the path of the Greater Rockford is the American coast guard cutter Marion, the only ship in the Davis Straits—the vicinity from which the last radio signals of the fliers were heard at 4 A. M. Sunday.

The Marion advised that she had made regular cruises to the observation stations along the line of flight that the Rockford aviators had mapped out.

"The Greater Rockford now has long been exhausted of fuel. She was a land plane and not meant for a landing at sea, built fragily and probably would have been pounded hard by the northern waters."

There was a chance—and it was this chance that made Hassell's friends hopeful—that the plane had succeeded in the long flight over the waterway between Labrador and Greenland and had landed on the island, some distance from Mt. Evans, the previously arranged stop.

Should this be the case it may be days and weeks before the true fate of the craft is known. There are virtually no communications on Greenland, save one or two small radio stations. Should the plane have skirted the coast line and gone inland in the ice wastes of inner Greenland and should a safe landing have been made, it will be days before the fliers will be able to reach any of the coastal cities.

The Mt. Evans station has received no word of the fliers and advises to Glace Bay, Nova Scotia, said other stations on Greenland had reported the same discouraging news—"no word of Hassell."

Meanwhile the United States is extending its resources while Canada, Newfoundland and Denmark all have indicated they will give aid immediately in an attempt to find Hassell and Cramer.

HEAVY STORMS
APPROACH AREA

Washington, Aug. 21.—New heavy storms are approaching the area where the plane "Greater Rockford" is believed to be lost, according to a radio received by coast guard headquarters today from the cutter Marion.

The Marion, searching for Bert Hassell and Parker Crane, pilots of the missing plane, reported storms are becoming frequent and weather conditions were very unfavorable.

A search is being made by the Marion on the route to Greenland, for some trace of the fliers. The cutter, which was ordered to travel the course taken by the plane, reported that so far no clue to the whereabouts of the Greater Rockford had been found.

Coast guard headquarters received a radiogram from the Marion last night reporting that there had been a heavy northwest storm Sunday, which made chances of rescue small if the plane had been forced to land in the water.

The radio said no other ships were in the vicinity to aid in the search.

DANISH GOVERNMENT TO AID IN SEARCH

Copenhagen, Aug. 21.—The Danish government today will decide the best means of aiding in the search for the airplane Greater Rockford, after receiving a request from Washington requesting Denmark's assistance.

It was pointed out that a coastline search of Greenland would be comparatively easy but it would be (Continued on page 6)

RED WING

Red Wing, Minn., Aug. 21.—(UP)—One of the four charred victims of the disastrous Chicago-Twin City bus crash and fire near here yesterday was identified today as Robert Hendricks, St. Louis dental student, enroute to Minneapolis to attend the Dental Association convention.

Little remained of the other three bodies. The fire which swept the bus immediately after it had collided with a fish hatchery truck on a turn of the highway, burned the bodies beyond recognition.

At an early hour today no one had claimed any of the victims.

Meanwhile five of the 11 passengers remained in the hospital here, two so seriously injured that little hope was held for their recovery.

Walter Meyer, Wazata, driver, and W. J. Gardner, Minneapolis, a passenger, were so badly burned that their recovery was doubtful.

Out of one of the worst accidents ever recorded in this vicinity, Walter Pickard, St. Paul boxer, emerged an outstanding hero.

It was Pickard, who despite a fractured arm, broke open a door which permitted two of the passengers to escape and who pulled three others to safety.

The 26-year-old youth said he attempted to pull the driver from his seat but that the skin on Meyer's hands came off like gloves. The youth then grasped Meyer around the head and pulled him from the bus.

Pickard also rescued the two women from the burning wreckage.
"The fire was so bad," Pickard said, "that I couldn't get the others. I'm sorry, but it could not be helped."

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 21.—(UP)—"The entire world soon will be in conflict and the war will mark the second coming of Christ and the beginning of the millennium," said Prof. J. T. Boettcher, Washington, in an address before the annual Seventh Day Adventists convention here.

Boettcher cited the Bible and prevailing uneasiness throughout the world in support of his contention of a world conflict.
"The world is on the brink of Armageddon as mentioned in the Bible, when every nation will be in combat," he said.

CONTRAST BETWEEN CLEVE-LAND AND SMITH CEREMONY
STRIKING IN ALL DETAILS

By PERCY B. SCOTT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 21.—From yellowed manuscripts and the recollections of half a dozen old timers comes this story of a democrat who was notified in Albany 44 years ago that he had been nominated for president.

Today, while hordes of strangers were streaming into the New York capital for the Smith notification ceremonies Wednesday night, there was only a handful of persons who could recall that day in 1884 when Grover Cleveland accepted the nomination.

The contrast between that even of July 29 forty-four years ago and the ceremony planned for Governor Alfred E. Smith is striking in almost every detail.

Less than 100 persons heard the address of notification by William F. Vilas of Wisconsin and the acceptance speech of Cleveland. Tomorrow night it is expected that 100,000 will see the event, and that millions will hear it over the radio.

The committee members, representing 38 states and 10 territories, climbed into open victorias, drawn by teams, and drove up to the mansion.
There in the east salon, Cleveland's friends, numbering less than 100, were awaiting the committee. Promptly at 4 P. M. Cleveland came down the stairway of the mansion into the salon.

The governor took his place and received his honor. Then in a clear, conversational tone, he accepted. His statement was confined entirely to "good government" and "democratic principles." He discussed no issues and made no attack.

Cleveland's acceptance was contained in 600 words. Smith's will require 8,000 words.
Cleveland accepted in less than eight minutes; Smith will take an hour.

Cleveland was photographed and less than a dozen newspapermen were present. Tomorrow night more than 200 correspondents will report the affair, and a barrage of movie and still cameras will be in action almost continually.

Cleveland raised no issue. Smith has promised to discuss many of them.

BAR STUNT FLYING
TO SUPPOSEDLY AID
DEAF AND DUMB

Curtiss Field, N. Y., Aug. 21.—(UP)—Officials at Curtiss Field have barred stunt flights in which deaf and dumb persons seek to be cured by being frightened into recovering their hearing and speech.
M. M. Merrill, superintendent of the field, said the ruling was made after Julius Schaeffer, 40-year-old mute, was taken aloft, and, although badly frightened, failed to regain the power of speech.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children took the matter up with Julius' parents after the flight.

FOUR NATIONS PREPARE SEARCH AND RELIEF EXPEDI-TIONS

AMERICAN COAST GUARD CUT-TER MARION IN THE

New York, Aug. 21.—(UP)—Bert R. Hassell and Parker D. Cramer, who left Illinois Thursday in their plane the "Greater Rockford" on a three-stop flight to Stockholm, Sweden, today were hours overdue and still unheard from at Mt. Evans, Greenland, the destination of the second leg of their ambitious flight.

Hope for their safety waned as four nations prepared search and relief expeditions. Among the ships in the vicinity of the path of the Greater Rockford is the American coast guard cutter Marion, the only ship in the Davis Straits—the vicinity from which the last radio signals of the fliers were heard at 4 A. M. Sunday.

The Marion advised that she had made regular cruises to the observation stations along the line of flight that the Rockford aviators had mapped out.

Mapped out. Greater Rockford now has long been exhausted of fuel. She was a land plane and not meant for a landing at sea, built fragily and probably would have been pounded hard by the northern waters.

There was a chance—and it was this chance that made Hassell's friends hopeful—that the plane had succeeded in the long flight over the waterway between Labrador and Greenland and had landed on the island, some distance from Mt. Evans, the previously arranged stop.

Should this be the case it may be days and weeks before the true fate of the craft is known. There are virtually no communications on Greenland, save one or two small radio stations. Should the plane have skirted the coast line and gone inland in the ice wastes of inner Greenland and should a safe landing have been made, it will be days before the fliers will be able to reach any of the coastal cities.

The Mt. Evans station has received no word of the fliers and advices to Glace Bay, Nova Scotia, said other stations on Greenland had reported the same discouraging news—"no word of Hassell."

Meanwhile the United States is extending its resources while Canada, Newfoundland and Denmark all have indicated they will give aid immediately in an attempt to find Hassell and Cramer.

HEAVY STORMS
APPROACH AREA

Washington, Aug. 21.—New heavy storms are approaching the area where the plane "Greater Rockford" is believed to be lost, according to a radio received by coast guard headquarters today from the cutter Marion.

The Marion, searching for Bert Hassell and Parker Crane, pilots of the missing plane, reported storms are becoming frequent and weather conditions were very unfavorable.

A search is being made by the Marion on the route to Greenland, for some trace of the fliers. The cutter, which was ordered to travel the course taken by the plane, reported that so far no clue to the whereabouts of the Greater Rockford had been found.

Coast guard headquarters received a radiogram from the Marion last night reporting that there had been a heavy northwest storm Sunday, which made chances of rescue small if the plane had been forced to land in the water.

The radio said no other ships were in the vicinity to aid in the search.

DANISH GOVERNMENT TO AID IN SEARCH

Copenhagen, Aug. 21.—The Danish government today will decide the best means of aiding in the search for the airplane Greater Rockford, after receiving a request from Washington requesting Denmark's assistance.

It was pointed out that a coast-line search of Greenland would be comparatively easy but it would be (Continued on page 6)

BRAINERD
25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

August 21, 1903

There was quite a bad wind storm in this vicinity last night about midnight, though Brainerd did not suffer much loss.

A strip of five miles wide near Bay Lake was visited by a wind of cyclonic proportions and considerable damage was done. Trees were blown down, many houses and barns were unroofed and stock was killed. D. Archibald sustained quite a severe loss. He has a fine orchard and many of the trees were blown down. Others are reported to have lost quite heavily.

Miss Myrtle Drysdale was tendered a surprise party on Wednesday evening by some 20 of her young friends. She was presented with a beautiful writing cabinet, which was a mark of esteem in which she is held by her many friends. Luncheon was served and the young people busied themselves with parlor games during the evening as a diversion.

Decorators are at work today on the interior of the First National bank. The new fixtures for the bank are expected to arrive in the city in a short time.

It is understood that the committee that went to Valley City to look over the library there were very much pleased with the general plan of the structure and it is thought perhaps that the plans for a similar library in Brainerd will be recommended.

After the ceremony, the young couple left by motor for a honeymoon trip in the west. Their many friends here join in wishing them much happiness.

Family Reunion Held

A family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Wohart, 412 South Broadway, coming together for the first time in 15 years. Thirty-five members of the family, children and grandchildren were present. A banquet was given on the lawn and several photographs were taken.

THE WEEKLY CHAT

A man is as big as his desires—how far are you reaching out and ahead? Success in life, in business, in the scientific, professional, artistic or social world, and in schools and colleges, is three-quarters work, one-quarter brain, according to the testimony of those who have achieved it in outstanding degree. But to work and win means also to be well in ninety-nine out of one hundred cases. Sickly men and women have reached high places. But they are comparatively few in number, and have merely proved the rule that Blind Lady Justice, whether we approve or not, gives a head start to those who come with Health to enter the great success handicap. Father time has not yet changed the cut of his hair, though he has slicked up his scythe to keep up with the traffic. Conditions are improving, however, for good health is becoming a gospel, humanity is awakening to the fact that sickness, in a large percentage of cases, is an error of body and mind. Ignorance of the injurious effects of denatured foods, drinks, drugs, over-eating, and the effects of our unhygienic habits and neglect is gradually being overcome. I express my opinions, not as dogma, but my personal conclusions, hoping they will stimulate thought, even if they do not satisfy. Do you care to read, will you read a weekly chat on diet, food, hygiene, etc.?

I hope you will, for I am going to write a weekly article, read them—and should you meet me face to face I pledge you my personal assistance on your troubles; you will not be dealing with a printing plant—but with me personally.

BRAINERD
25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

August 21, 1903

There was quite a bad wind storm in this vicinity last night about midnight, though Brainerd did not suffer much loss.

A strip a few miles wide near Bay Lake was visited by a wind of cyclonic proportions and considerable damage was done. Trees were blown down, many houses and barns were unroofed and stock was killed.

D. Archibald sustained quite a severe loss. He has a fine orchard and many of the trees were blown down. Others are reported to have lost quite heavily.

Miss Myrtle Drysdale was tendered a surprise party on Wednesday evening by some 20 of her young friends. She was presented with a beautiful writing cabinet, which was a mark of esteem in which she is held by her many friends. Luncheon was served and the young people busied themselves with parlor games during the evening as a diversion.

Decorators are at work today on the interior of the First National bank. The new fixtures for the bank are expected to arrive in the city in a short time.

It is understood that the committee that went to Valley City to look over the library there were very much pleased with the general plan of the structure and it is thought perhaps that the plans for a similar library in Brainerd will be recommended.

Wright-Hogue

Miss Veronica Hogue, daughter of Mrs. Hogue of Cedar Rapids, Ia., and Dudley Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. St. Elmo Wright of Brainerd, were quietly married at the Catholic church in Crosby, at 8:30 o'clock Monday morning, August 20.

After the ceremony, the young couple left by motor for a honeymoon trip in the west. Their many friends here join in wishing them much happiness.

Family Reunion Held

A family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Wolhart, 412 South Broadway, coming together for the first time in 15 years. Thirty-five members of the family, children and grandchildren were present. A banquet was given on the lawn and several photographs were taken.

THE WEEKLY CHAT

A man is as big as his desires—how far are you reaching out and ahead? Success in life, in business, in the scientific, professional, artistic or social world, and in schools and colleges, is three-quarters work, one-quarter brains, according to the testimony of those who have achieved it in outstanding degree. But to work and win means also to be well in ninety-nine out of one hundred cases. Sickly men and women have reached high places. But they are comparatively few in number, and have merely proved the rule that Blind Lady Justice, whether we approve or not, gives a head start to those who come with Health to enter the great success handicap. Father time has not yet changed the cut of his hair, though he has slicked up his scythe to keep up with the traffic. Conditions are improving, however, for good health is becoming a gospel, humanity is awakening to the fact that sickness, in a large percentage of cases, is an error of body and mind. Ignorance of the injurious effects of denatured foods, drinks, drugs, over-eating, and the effects of our unhygienic habits and neglect is gradually being overcome. I express my opinions, not as dogma, but my personal conclusions, hoping they will stimulate thought, even if they do not satisfy. Do you care to read, will you read a weekly chat on diet, food, hygiene, etc.?

I hope you will, for I am going to write a weekly article, read them—and should you meet me face to face I pledge you my personal assistance on your troubles; you will not be dealing with a printing plant—but with me personally.

Immediately after she finished her work as the star of "Ramona," the film feature that will occupy the Lyceum theatre screen Wednesday for three days, Dolores Del Rio set about furnishing her new Mexican home in the Hollywood Hills.

The house is a typical Mexican building—the same style as that in which Miss Del Rio resided before clicking movie cameras lured her to Hollywood from Mexico City. It occupies a spacious vista in the hills, looking down on the film city that has helped make the name of Dolores Del Rio known wherever motion pictures are shown.

Mexico Transplanted to Give Dolores Del Rio Home

Immediately after she finished her work as the star of "Ramona," the film feature that will occupy the Lyceum theatre screen Wednesday for three days, Dolores Del Rio set about furnishing her new Mexican home in the Hollywood Hills.

The house is a typical Mexican building—the same style as that in which Miss Del Rio resided before clicking movie cameras lured her to Hollywood from Mexico City.

It occupies a spacious vista in the hills, looking down on the film city that has helped make the name of Dolores Del Rio known wherever motion pictures are shown.

CENTER LINE MARKING

DOWN at the junction of Tunk Highways No. 2 and 19, some one has put in a block of center marking, using a white stripe and an orange stripe. It's right near the curve on No. 19, located on No. 2 straight-away.

Motorists have noticed it and commented. Some time ago Mike Marea had a petition circulated which he addressed to the Highway Department, begging them to put in a center marker on the tarvia.

A tarvia highway is good in the center and on the sides until you get in touch with the outer edge. There the tarvia fades and the loose gravel is in evidence. Fast drivers running too near the edge are oftentimes entrapped and upset.

The sample center marker shows the tarvia highway actually wider than a cement paving. It gives each line of traffic ample room and it's much easier to skim along keeping your eye on your half guided by the center line, than striking a general average on the uneven edge of the frayed tarvia paving.

We hope the center marking will be a successful innovation, that it will be adopted. We believe that motorists, in order to gain the center line, will do everything possible to guard against its obliteration.

Mr. Marea was informed that there was no way to answer his petition, that a painted line would not hold on the tarvia and there was no metal substitute. But now, evidently, the department or some one in authority, is "trying out a center line" of paint.

We think the orange colored line will outlast the white line.

HOW TO KEEP WITHIN STATE SPEED LIMITS

"WHAT is the speed limit in Minnesota?"

That is a common question, especially at this time of the year when tourists from other states are most numerous and when many of the home folks are taking their annual vacation trips.

To give a complete answer and quote the section of the law giving the "reasonable" speeds at various places would take a half column in this paper, and after you get all through you have to explain that these are not maximum speeds, but simply that going at higher speeds is prima facie evidence that you have been driving at a greater speed than is reasonable and proper.

To avoid confusion it is much simpler to remember this rule: Drive slow enough so you can stop in the clear space ahead.

If you stick to that rule you will be safe from arrest except in a very few communities where they make arrests for technical offenses instead of careless driving. Fortunately the number of such communities in Minnesota is growing smaller and smaller.

But more important than helping you to avoid arrest, this rule if generally observed would cut down accidents at least ninety per cent.

It is well to study the state law relative to speed, as well as all other parts of the traffic act. Anyone can obtain a copy by writing to C. M. Babcock, commissioner of highways, St. Paul. But since few can remember the whole traffic law, it is worth while to repeat this rule:

Always drive so you can stop in the clear space ahead.

ANOTHER FLAT TIRE

THE state of North Dakota has been experimenting with Socialism for the past ten years and it has cost the taxpayers of that state millions of dollars to do so, says the Anoka Herald editorially. They have a state bank, a state mill, and the good Lord, alone, knows what all. They have tried nearly everything with the usual result.

About the time the bank was organized someone with a genius for spending other people's money conceived the brilliant idea that it would be a grand and glorious thing to build homes for the homeless and sell them on the installment plan. A building association was organized and a loan running into the hundreds of thousands of dollars borrowed from the state bank. They have just made a report of their operations and we are not surprised to learn that the state has sustained a loss of $400,000. Of that amount $300,000 represents operating expenses, which means salaries, commissions, etc., and only 54 homes were built.

When will the taxpayers learn that government or state operation of industry is both inefficient and wasteful? The bane of public operation is politics as the two do not mix. Government regulation, yes; financing operation, NO.

A TEN-LINE ITEM

THE Omaha World-Herald refers to the Vail, Iowa, Observer, a Republican paper, which published an item only ten lines long on the subject of farm conditions and the need of farm relief.

The ten lines are more convincing than an argument that might be extended to ten columns. They deal wholly with facts. Here is the item:

"Since January 1, 1922, Sheriff A. C. Greene of Crawford county has sold 392 tracts of Crawford county real estate, not including small sales. The aggregate amount of these sales was $4,142,198.77, and the entire acreage amounts to more than 85 square miles. All of the sales were sheriff's sales and were the result of the foreclosure of mortgages."

Crawford county ranks among the rich, productive and well farmed counties of the state. But in six years, at sheriff's sales, because they couldn't pay the interest on the mortgages on their farms, they have lost more than 85 square miles of land out of the heart of their county.

Here is just one little plain, unadorned fact that is as well worthy the attention of Herbert Hoover as of Alfred E. Smith.

The more anyone studies this item the better he will understand what the farmers mean when they demand "economic equality for agriculture."

THINGS are different in different localities. Out west a sheriff has stated that couples may spoon and pet in their cars unmolested. Regarding Washington, D. C., parks Lieut. Col. U. S. Grant has drawn up a set of resolutions which he hopes will cut down spooning in the parks.

THE glory of man's achievement is not measured in dollars, not by his prowess as a great political leader, his accumulation of great wealth, or the fine home in which he makes his temporary abode; but rather by the things he has done to make humanity richer, safer, happier while journeying through life, says the Bee Hive of the Maccabees.

Mother! It's Cruel to "Physic"
Your Child

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, it seemed cruel that so many constipated infants and children had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all children's little ills, he did not believe that a sickening "purge" or "physic" was necessary.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which helps to establish natural bowel "regularity" even if the child is chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but, best of all, it never gripes, sickens or upsets the most delicate system. Besides, it is absolutely harmless, and so pleasant that even a cross, feverish, sick child gladly takes it.

Do You Buy Advertised Goods?

Of course you do; everybody does. Just run over in your mind the various articles that you have purchased in the last week or the last month. How about foods? Your breakfast fruits, cereals and bacon are all advertised. Probably that is how you first came to know of them—through advertising. Probably the shoes you are wearing, or the dress or suit you have on are equally well-known advertised makes, and you are proud of them.

In the home. On the floor are rugs and linoleum—the better wearing kinds are extensively advertised. What about the kitchen? Aluminum ware, gas ranges, hot water heaters, dish and clothes washers, cooking utensils of all kinds—practically everything you use is advertised. You buy advertised products because you have confidence in them. You know that a manufacturer cannot afford to advertise shoddy or unworthy merchandise.

The more you read advertising the more you will know about human progress. You will become well posted in almost every line of human endeavor and a canny judge of values. Reading advertisements is a fine habit. Cultivate it.

CENTER LINE MARKING

DOWN at the junction of Tunk Highways No. 2 and 19, some one has put in a block of center marking, using a white stripe and an orange stripe. It's right near the curve on No. 19, located on No. 2 straight-away.

Motorists have noticed it and commented. Some time ago Mike Marea had a petition circulated which he addressed to the Highway Department, begging them to put in a center marker on the tarvia.

A tarvia highway is good in the center and on the sides until you get in touch with the outer edge. There the tarvia fades and the loose gravel is in evidence. Fast drivers running too near the edge are oftentimes entrapped and upset.

The sample center marker shows the tarvia highway actually wider than a cement paving. It gives each line of traffic ample room and it's much easier to skim along keeping your eye on your half guided by the center line, than striking a general average on the uneven edge of the frayed tarvia paving.

We hope the center marking will be a successful innovation, that it will be adopted. We believe that motorists, in order to gain the center line, will do everything possible to guard against its obliteration.

Mr. Marea was informed that there was no way to answer his petition, that a painted line would not hold on the tarvia and there was no metal substitute. But now, evidently, the department or some one in authority, is "trying out a center line" of paint.

We think the orange colored line will outlast the white line.

HOW TO KEEP WITHIN STATE SPEED LIMITS

"WHAT is the speed limit in Minnesota?"

That is a common question, especially at this time of the year when tourists from other states are most numerous and when many of the home folks are taking their annual vacation trips.

To give a complete answer and quote the section of the law giving the "reasonable" speeds at various places would take a half column in this paper, and after you get all through you have to explain that these are not maximum speeds, but simply that going at higher speeds is prima facie evidence that you have been driving at a greater speed than is reasonable and proper.

To avoid confusion it is much simpler to remember this rule: Drive slow enough so you can stop in the clear space ahead.

If you stick to that rule you will be safe from arrest except in a very few communities where they make arrests for technical offenses instead of careless driving. Fortunately the number of such communities in Minnesota is growing smaller and smaller.

But more important than helping you to avoid arrest, this rule if generally observed would cut down accidents at least ninety per cent.

It is well to study the state law relative to speed, as well as all other parts of the traffic act. Anyone can obtain a copy by writing to C. M. Babcock, commissioner of highways, St. Paul. But since few can remember the whole traffic law, it is worth while to repeat this rule:

Always drive so you can stop in the clear space ahead.

ANOTHER FLAT TIRE

THE state of North Dakota has been experimenting with Socialism for the past ten years and it has cost the taxpayers of that state millions of dollars to do so, says the Anoka Herald editorially. They have a state bank, a state mill, and the good Lord, alone, knows what all. They have tried nearly everything with the usual result.

About the time the bank was organized someone with a genius for spending other people's money conceived the brilliant idea that it would be a grand and glorious thing to build homes for the homeless and sell them on the installment plan. A building association was organized and a loan running into the hundreds of thousands of dollars borrowed from the state bank. They have just made a report of their operations and we are not surprised to learn that the state has sustained a loss of $400,000. Of that amount $300,000 represents operating expenses, which means salaries, commissions, etc., and only 54 homes were built.

When will the taxpayers learn that government or state operation of industry is both inefficient and wasteful? The bane of public operation is politics as the two do not mix. Government regulation, yes; financing operation, NO.

A TEN-LINE ITEM

THE Omaha World-Herald refers to the Vail, Iowa, Observer, a Republican paper, which published an item only ten lines long on the subject of farm conditions and the need of farm relief.

The ten lines are more convincing than an argument that might be extended to ten columns. They deal wholly with facts. Here is the item:

"Since January 1, 1922, Sheriff A. C. Greene of Crawford county has sold 392 tracts of Crawford county real estate, not including small sales. The aggregate amount of these sales was $4,142,198.77, and the entire acreage amounts to more than 85 square miles. All of the sales were sheriff's sales and were the result of the foreclosure of mortgages."

Crawford county ranks among the rich, productive and well farmed counties of the state. But in six years, at sheriff's sales, because they couldn't pay the interest on the mortgages on their farms, they have lost more than 85 square miles of land out of the heart of their county.

Here is just one little plain, unadorned fact that is as well worthy the attention of Herbert Hoover as of Alfred E. Smith.

The more anyone studies this item the better he will understand what the farmers mean when they demand "economic equality for agriculture."

THINGS are different in different localities. Out west a sheriff has stated that couples may spoon and pet in their cars unmolested. Regarding Washington, D. C., parks Lieut. Col. U. S. Grant has drawn up a set of resolutions which he hopes will cut down spooning in the parks.

THE glory of man's achievement is not measured in dollars, not by his prowess as a great political leader, his accumulation of great wealth, or the fine home in which he makes his temporary abode; but rather by the things he has done to make humanity richer, safer, happier while journeying through life, says the Bee Hive of the Maccabees.

HURLS FORT SMITH TO 4 TO 2 VICTORY BEFORE 1500 SOUTHERN FANS

WINS HIS FOURTH CONSECUTIVE GAME IN OPENER AGAINST PRODUCERS

William Zakariasen, formerly of Brainerd, now of Fort Smith, Arkansas, recently pitched the first game of a double header for the Fort Smith Twins against the Independence Producers. Zakariasen won his game 4 to 2 before 1,500 fans to increase the league lead of the Twins.

The Fort Smith Arkansas South-west American in speaking of the game, said: "Some excellent hurling on the part of William Zakariasen, who won his fourth consecutive victory in the opener, featured the bargain day bill.

"Zak continued the great work that has characterized his mound appearances of late, by scattering nine enemy hits over seven innings and not walking a single opposing batter. The Producers got him for a single and a double in the first round for half their scoring, and picked up another run in the seventh in the same manner. The rest of the time the visitors were either popping out, or else watching the alert Fort Smith defensive thwart them. Zak's curve ball and change of pace had the heavy sluggers guessing all during the game. Hoover and Smith, independent nominees for baseball honors, were routed."

PLAYS AT FOREST HILLS TOURNAMENT

FIRST MATCH IN SECOND ROUND WITH MRS. J. SAUNDERS

MISS WILLS IS 10 TO 1 FAVORITE TO RETAIN HER TITLE

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 21. —Helen Wills began the quest of her fifth national singles championship today, playing her first match in the second round of the forty-first annual women's tournament matches against Mrs. J. Saunders, Taylor, New York.

They both drew byes in the first round yesterday, which saw twenty-eight of the field of sixty eliminated. There were no upsets in the first round, all the seeded players and favorites winning in drab fashion.

Miss Wills is a 10 to 1 favorite to retain her title. There is not a player in sight to even extend the California girl, who has not lost a set in any match this season. Three games are the most Miss Wills has lost in any one set.

Miss Helen Jacobs, serious-faced Santa Monica, Cal. girl, today was regarded as the outstanding player in the lower half of the draw, and she is likely to meet Miss Wills in the final.

One of the feature matches on today's program had Marjorie Gladman, Palo Alto, Calif., national girls' champion, and Edith Cross, San Francisco, Pacific coast champion, paired. They both won their first round matches in impressive fashion. Mrs. Molla Mallory, eight times national champion, who has trained hard for this test since her disastrous overseas campaign, had Carolyn Swartz, Berkeley, Cal., for her opponent in the second round. Playing bare-legged yesterday, Mrs. Mallory defeated Gene Burritt, young Toronto girl, 6-0, 6-2, and demonstrated that she has not lost all of her old time speed and power.

St. Louis refused to drop back, taking a 2 to 1 decision from Brooklyn. The Cards, in games won and lost, are half a game ahead, but the Giants hold the lead in percentage by .002 points.

The Brainerd N. P. team is scheduled to meet Happy Felsch's Major League All Stars from Plentywood, Montana, at 5 P. M. today at Koering grounds. The game will be played rain or shine.

Felsch's team has a great record and has lost only one game in the last 98 starts. Brainerd hopes to make it two losses for the Plentywood boys.

In Line for Honor

By QUIN HALL.
IF THE St. Louis Cardinals win out in the National League race—and right now it looks as if they have a great chance to do just that—it wouldn't be at all surprising to see Jim Bottomley, the happy-go-lucky first sacker of the team, chosen as the most valuable player in the league by the boys who do the selecting every Fall.

"Sunny Jim" has been enjoying his best season this year. He's been right up among the elite in the league when it comes to connecting the wood with the horsehide, and while he may not succeed in winning the batting honors in the circuit he stands a chance of doing it, as well as leading the league in round-trip wallage.

Bottomley has been regularly employed with the Cardinals since 1922, and while he never has led the league in stick work he always has given a good account of himself at the plate—and remember that he has been going better this season than ever before.

He can easily be rated as a star and is the most popular player on the St. Louis club, if not in the league. And Jim owes his rise to stardom to a couple of dyed-in-the-wool fans whose names he doesn't even know.

Nakomis, Ill., boasts of the fact that it's Jim's birthplace. Nakomis is located in the Illinois coal mining region, where every town has its ball club, and where the rivalry between these towns runs hotter than the thermometer on a torrid August day.

Jim used to play on a sand lot team in Nakomis, this fan raved so about Bottomley that Henry Boher, manager of the town team, gave him a chance and hired him.

Then a former resident of Nakomis, who had gone to St. Louis and obtained a policeman's job, was home on a vacation. He was another rabid fan and when he saw Bottomley working at first for the town team against a team from Witt, a nearby town, he determined that Jim had class enough to peddle his wares in the majors. During that Witt game Jim was up five times and crashed out two home runs and three triples.

That was enough to convince the St. Louis copper. He had been detailed to the ball park in St. Louis on several occasions and knew Charley Barret, the Cardinal scout. Charley heard all about Jim from the policeman and in a few days the youngster in Nakomis received a letter from Branch Rickey suggesting he report to the Cards for a try-out. No grass grew under Jim's feet while he made that trip to St. Louis and, although he was farmed out for seasoning, he returned to St. Louis in 1922 and has been an active cog in the machine ever since.

Having earned the reputation of being one of the greatest first basemen in the big leagues, Sunny Jim is deserving of any honors which may be heaped upon him, and if the boys who make the most valuable player award should select Bottomley for the high honor this year there will be a special celebration in Nakomis and even in cities outside of St. Louis.

It's hard to imagine how anyone who follows the game could object to such a choice.

PLAYS AT FOREST HILLS TOURNAMENT

FIRST MATCH IN SECOND ROUND WITH MRS. J. SAUNDERS

MISS WILLS IS 10 TO 1 FAVORITE TO RETAIN HER TITLE

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 21. —Helen Wills began the quest of her fifth national singles championship today, playing her first match in the second round of the forty-first annual women's tournament matches against Mrs. J. Saunders, Taylor, New York.

They both drew byes in the first round yesterday, which saw twenty-eight of the field of sixty eliminated. There were no upsets in the first round, all the seeded players and favorites winning in drab fashion.

Miss Wills is a 10 to 1 favorite to retain her title. There is not a player in sight to even extend the California girl, who has not lost a set in any match this season. Three games are the most Miss Wills has lost in any one set.

Miss Helen Jacobs, serious-faced Santa Monica, Cal., girl, today was regarded as the outstanding player in the lower half of the draw, and she is likely to meet Miss Wills in the final.

One of the feature matches on today's program had Marjorie Gladman, Palo Alto, Calif., national girls' champion, and Edith Cross, San Francisco, Pacific coast champion, paired. They both won their first round matches in impressive fashion. Mrs. Molla Mallory, eight times national champion, who has trained hard for this test since her disastrous overseas campaign, had Carolyn Swartz, Berkeley, Cal., for her opponent in the second round. Playing bare-legged yesterday, Mrs. Mallory defeated Gene Burritt, young Toronto girl, 6-0, 6-2, and demonstrated that she has not lost all of her old time speed and power.

N. Y. GIANTS STILL CLING TO NARROW MARGIN

Cincinnati, Aug. 21. (U.P.)—New York's 5 to 3 victory over the Reds here yesterday enabled the Giants to cling to the narrow margin they held over the St. Louis Cardinals.

St. Louis refused to drop back, taking a 2 to 1 decision from Brooklyn. The Cards, in games won and lost, are half a game ahead, but the Giants hold the lead in percentage by .002 points.

N. P. TEAM TO PLAY NINE OF HAPPY FELSCH

GAME CALLED AT 5 P. M. TODAY AT KOERING GROUNDS RAIN OR SHINE

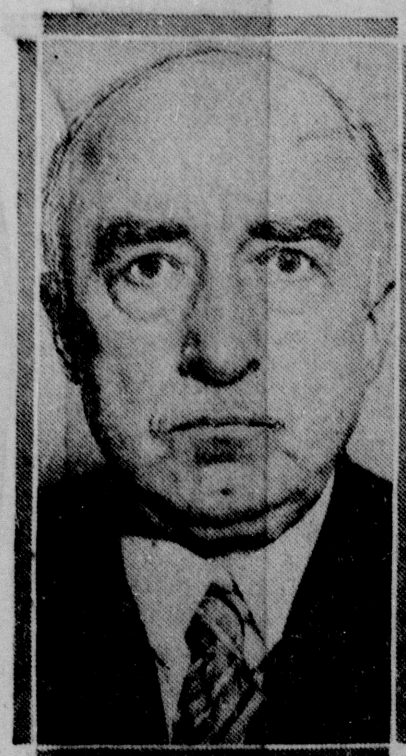

MAJOR LEAGUE ALL STARS OF PLENTYWOOD, MONT., HAVE GREAT RECORD

The Brainerd N. P. team is scheduled to meet Happy Felsch's Major League All Stars from Plentywood, Montana, at 5 P. M. today at Koering grounds. The game will be played rain or shine.

Felsch's team has a great record and has lost only one game in the last 98 starts. Brainerd hopes to make it two losses for the Plentywood boys.

The complete Brainerd line-up is still in doubt but a real battle is expected. Olson will take the mound against Felsch's team, and will try to increase his strikeout record. His total went up to 70 Sunday against the Crosby Ore Diggers.

In Line for Honor

ST LOUIS CARDINAL SLUGGER WHO SHOULD FIGURE STRONG IN THE MOST VALUABLE PLAYER AWARD FOR 1928

HE'S ONE OF THE BEST FIRST BASEMEN AND ONE OF THE MOST POPULAR GUYS IN THE GAME

By QUIN HALL.

IF THE St. Louis Cardinals win out in the National League race—and right now it looks as if they have a great chance to do just that—it wouldn't be at all surprising to see Jim Bottomley, the happy-go-lucky first sacker of the team, chosen as the most valuable player in the league by the boys who do the selecting every fall.

"Sunny Jim" has been enjoying his best season this year. He's been right up among the elite in the league when it comes to connecting the wood with the horsehide, and while he may not succeed in winning the batting honors in the circuit he stands a chance of doing it, as well as leading the league in round-trip wallops.

Bottomley has been regularly employed by the Cardinals since 1922, and while he never has led the league in stick work he always has given a good account of himself at the plate—and remember that he has been going better this season than ever before.

He can easily be rated as a star and is the most popular player on the St. Louis club, if not in the league. And Jim owes his rise to stardom to a couple of dyed-in-the-wool fans whose names he doesn't even know.

Nakomis, Ill., boasts of the fact that it's Jim's birthplace. Nakomis is located in the Illinois coal mining region, where every town has its ball club, and where the rivalry between these towns runs hotter than the thermometer on a torrid August day.

Jim used to play on a sand lot team in Nakomis and his first boost to fame came when one of the dyed-in-the-wool fans passed by during the course of a game in which the youngster was doing a great job of first sacking and hitting. This fellow was so taken with Jim's playing that he remained throughout the game and in the ninth inning saw Jim clear the bases with a full circuit drive. Later, down in the cigar store which was the local sport headquarters in Nakomis, this fan raved so about Bottomley that Henry Boher, manager of the town team, gave him a chance and hired him.

Then a former resident of Nakomis, who had gone to St. Louis and obtained a policeman's job, was home on a vacation. He was another rabid fan and when he saw Bottomley working at first for the town team against a team from Witt, a nearby town, he determined that Jim had class enough to peddle his wares in the majors. During that Witt game Jim was up five times and crashed out two home runs and three triples.

That was enough to convince the St. Louis copper. He had been detailed to the ball park in St. Louis on several occasions and knew Charley Barret, the Cardinal scout. Charley heard all about Jim from the policeman and in a few days the youngster in Nakomis received a letter from Branch Rickey suggesting he report to the Cards for a try-out. No grass grew under Jim's feet while he made that trip to St. Louis and, although he was farmed out for seasoning, he returned to St. Louis in 1922 and has been an active cog in the machine ever since.

Having earned the reputation of being one of the greatest first basemen in the big leagues, Sunny Jim is deserving of any honors which may be heaped upon him, and if the boys who make the most valuable player award should select Bottomley for the high honor this year there will be a special celebration in Nakomis and even in cities outside of St. Louis. It's hard to imagine how anyone who follows the game could object to such a choice.

COUNCIL CONSIDERS SEWAGE DISPOSAL

Discuss Adequate Provisions to Care for Pressing Problem

PETITIONS MUST BE SIGNED

At Least 51 Per Cent of Abutting Property Owners Must Sign for Improvement

The problem of adequate storm sewers for Brainerd was discussed at length by the city council in their meeting last night. The statute in regard to action on the improvement of sewerage was read by City Attorney D. H. Fullerton. It requires that at least 51% of the benefitted or abutting property owners must sign a petition for an improvement of the sewerage disposal before the city council can take any action whatever on the proposition. This ties the hands of the city council until the merchants of the business district sign a petition asking for improved sewerage conditions.

The city engineer reports that with the exception of the washouts on Cemetery hill and a few small places the damage done by the recent heavy rain storms has been taken care of. The work on cemetery hill got under way today.

The Walter P. Tyrholm Company was granted permission to build additional sheds extending west to the sidewalk on lot 19, block 71.

It was estimated that it would cost $900 to install an automatic oil burner in the city hall, and the council voted that the matter be dropped from consideration for the time being.

Little was done since the last meeting on the proposition of an airport for Brainerd. Mr. Little, chairman of the committee in charge of the proposition, was absent from last night's meeting.

The city engineer was instructed to advertise for bids for 250 feet of sidewalk to be laid on Quince street between South Sixth street and South Fifth street. The walk is to be six feet wide and the city engineer estimated the cost to be between $1.15 and $1.20 per lineal foot including the grading.

It was suggested that the budget for the council remain the same for the preceding year as that of the present year but the matter will not be voted on until a later meeting of the council. At the present time the contingent fund is depleted and the council moved that $300 be transferred from the general fund to the contingent fund to make the contingent fund equal to the $300 mark that it is customary to maintain.

The purchasing committee was granted more time to consider the bids for the purchase of the coal supply. This committee was authorized to go ahead with the repaving of the city street sprinkler. The committee was also empowered to go ahead with the improving of the old jail to make it a suitable voting place for the first precinct in the second ward. The city engineer estimated the cost of the improvement necessary at $100 to $150.

The council moved that a communication be sent the postmaster requesting that he cause the erection of a mail box on the southwest corner of the intersection of Laurel and Sixth streets. It was the contention of the council that the present mail box in the doorway of the Iron Exchange building was very inconspicuous and that tourists had trouble in locating a mail box to mail letters and cards.

The residents of North Bluff Ave. have signified their willingness to stand an assessment to pay for street grading and a petition will be drawn up soon asking for this improvement. Alderman W. J. Hall asked that the city engineer and the purchasing committee investigate the cost of a new gravel truck to speed up the work of gravel hauling throughout the city.

The council agreed that Charles Dunham be employed to grade Cora street between 6th and 7th streets in West Brainerd. The city engineer was appointed to place a culvert at 10th and Ivy streets.

The question of the settling pavement over the fill was discussed and it was disclosed by the city engineer that the curb was settling due to the washing out of sand near the pavement. At this recommendation the council will advertise for bids for the unloading of from 200 to 300 yards of sand in the fill. He also recommended that about 75 feet of paving be removed and rebuilt next year and the curbing raised.

A motion was made instructing the Water and Light board to place a light at the corner of South Fifth and Quince streets. The contract with the municipal band will be brought up at the next meeting and an understanding had as the band failed to appear in the recent parade of the State Moose convention despite the orders of the council to do so.

Four weeks ago the proposal for a sewer on 13th street was brought up and after investigation the city engineer reported that the installation of a sewer there at the present time was not feasible.

The city engineer was also requested to investigate the installation of a sewer on Terrace Ave. He reported that such a sewer could be put in at a cost of from $2.25 to $2.30 a lineal foot. This includes the installation of three manholes, and recommends 8 inch pipe ten feet down. Those taxed if this sewer is installed would be the residents on the north and the south side of Terrace Ave. Some of the residents seem to have a frontage unequal to the benefit they would derive and after talking it over it seems that many of the residents are willing to be assessed equally.

The city clerk was authorized to advertise for bids for the construction of this lateral sewer starting at the general sewer and extending 540 feet west.

Pupils Seeking Employment for Board and Lodging While Attending School

The Brainerd Lions club has appointed a special committee composed of Cubs George W. Sweet, Dr. W. A. Erickson and I. C. Strout to work in conjunction with the County Superintendent of Schools Mrs. Irma C. Hartley in aiding out of town boys and girls who attend school in Brainerd and who are seeking places where they may find employment for their board and lodging, to find them.

The club has already placed one 14 year old boy in a home here. The letter regarding the boy describes him as one willing to work and speaks very well of him. Probably other names will be brought to the attention of the committee very shortly. It is regarded as a very commendable piece of work by school authorities here.

The committee will greatly appreciate the cooperation of the citizens of Brainerd in bringing such cases to their attention or to the attention of any members of the Lions club.

The club has been active in this branch of work for the past three or four years and through the hearty cooperation of Mrs. Hartley have been quite successful and consider this an activity of major importance.

Geneva, Aug. 21.—(U.P.)—Foreign Minister Van Blockland, of Holland, probably will be elected president of the September assembly of the League of Nations, it was understood today. The election would be in compensation for giving Holland's council seat to Spain, in recognition of the latter's return to the league.

FAIR BOARD ADDS FINISHING TOUCHES

Completing All Arrangements for County Fair at Pequot August 23, 24 and 25

CHIPPEWA INDIANS COMING

Lieutenant Governor W. I. Nolan to Speak at Fair on Thursday Afternoon

The county fair board held its final meeting before the opening of the fair at Pequot and the last arrangements were completed. Eight large boxes have just arrived for the state auditor's exhibit which promised to be very interesting. It will be under the direction of F. A. Wildes.

Chief Na-ta-we-ga-shig, who is almost 100 years old and is one of the fluent talkers among the Chippewa Indians will be given a place on the program. He clings to his native tongue and refuses to speak without an interpreter. The chief's memory is still perfect and he will address the audiences through his interpreter and give reminiscences on the early days of Minnesota, dating back 75 and 80 years.

Lieutenant Governor W. I. Nolan will speak at the fair on Thursday afternoon. While in Pequot he will be the guest of a lifelong friend there.

Ernest Liegel who has been with the Symphony orchestra for some time has consented to play with a group of Symphony orchestra players at the fair. He has a summer home near Pequot at Symphony Retreat and will be first flutist with the Chicago Symphony orchestra during the coming season.

The State Forestry department will have a fine exhibit at the fair under the supervision of local Forest Ranger E. H. Rhodes.

A carpenter's crew is at work on the building of an addition to the grandstand at the present time. The addition will seat 350 people and was made a necessity by the popularity of the evening programs at the county fair.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR.

ALEDA RAY, pretty country girl working in New York as a secretary, and Gary Chester, young engineer, are in love. Aleda is living with Marise de Rense and the latter's young sophisticated sister, Goldie. Through jealousy, Goldie creates a break between Aleda and Gary. W. B. Lingard, employer of Aleda and Gary, after years of search meets Marise, sweetheart of his youth. Eavesdropping, Goldie learns that Marise is not her sister—but her mother! She demands an explanation and Marise pours out the story of her tragic early marriage to a convict who has since died. Goldie leaves home. Aleda, visiting her parents in the country, meets Gary. Love blooms anew. Gary sails for Italy on a business trip. Later, Lingard is forced to make a hurried trip to Paris and takes Aleda along as secretary. His niece, the Countess Dellamancas, acting as chaperone. They arrive in Paris.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER LIII.

ALEDA—in her bedroom in the Ritz Hotel in Paris—stood before the long pier-glass and surveyed herself.

She had donned the rose taffeta robe de style that was so eminently becoming, which Marise had insisted that she purchase in New York before sailing.

Was it because she looked so beautiful, and knew that from the top of her shining head to her dainty slippers she was "just right" that Aleda was smiling and starry-eyed tonight?

Or was it that down in the foyer—waiting for William B. Lingard's party—was none other than Gary Chester, the young man of her heart?

She dabbed a touch of powder on that pretty face of hers—tentatively fluffing out an extra curl. "O-o-oh! I'm so happy!" She stretched her two bare arms out, wide, as though encompassing the whole world.

The phone rang sharply. Came a volley of words in rapid male French.

A message from downstairs! She caught the name—"Lee-nard!" "They're waiting!" she told herself—look up a slim little smile that her own clever fingers had fashioned from a strip of satin—a small evening bag Marise had given her as a "steamer present"—went out to the elevator, and so downstairs.

William B. Lingard moved to meet her. An affable, a fatherly smile was on his unusually grim face. He had just finished fifteen minutes' conversation with young Gary Chester—enough to show what a first-class proposition was the Bianchi Water Power! The report from Chester had been excellent. His own opinion had been verified!

Therefore, the financier was in a benign mood.

"Mr. Chester has just been telling me that you and he are old friends." He placed a kind hand on Aleda's arm, and led her toward the tall, handsome young man in evening dress.

Never had this mouse-like little secretary looked so pretty or so animated, he decided. There was an incandescent, inward beauty to-night that lighted the small, delicately-featured face.

Was it possible—he gave a quick glance from one to the other—that this child was sweet on Gary Chester—that the young fellow was fascinated by the little secretary?

William B. Lingard beamed again in great good humor. Business was excellent. Before leaving New York, he had had a romantic renewal with Marise Miller—known now as Marise de Rense—a long-ago sweetheart. She was a friend of Miss Ray's—she thought the world of this Aleda. For Marise's sake, and because life in general was rosy and they were in Paris, he would do everything to help this romance along. . . . He would give a further opportunity for meeting, to Chester (a very decent chap) and this young girl!

"My niece, the Countess, is on the Rue Cambon side of the hotel," announced William B. Lingard genially, "in other words, having a pre-dinner appetizer in the ladies' bar."

The Countess, it transpired, had run into many of her titled friends in the short space of time since her arrival. A spray of orchids on her shoulder, a bouquet of the same exotic blooms held in her lap, she was holding court among the cosmopolites.

And she was radiant! This was the playground of the world! This was the metier she loved!

If only—only—

But wasn't there a fly in every ointment? What would life be without the lure, the urge, of the one thing held back?

The party went to Circo's. They were joined there by the Vicomte Cerno, an old friend of Lingard's.

Circo's is perhaps the most expensive—and certainly the most famous—restaurant in Paris. Just off the rue de la Paix, its little pink sign juts out into the rue Danou, and through its exclusive portals step many interesting folks, including royalties.

At Aleda's elbow (in her simple little frock, she was the loveliest girl in Paris! thought young Chester) was the assiduous young man.

"Passez"—like a gardenia whose petals have been touched by unknown fingers!—was the Countess Dellamancas, in comparison with this radiant young loveliness, to-night!

Wearing a red rose in his lapel, and a monocle, the manager greeted the new arrivals courteously.

In the Paris Circo's there are two dining rooms, a large and small one. The Viscomte Cerno had an old and famous title. So had the Countess Dellamancas. Lingard was reputedly very wealthy. The manager did not hesitate for the fraction of a second. Into the more intimate, exclusive, smaller room the party was piloted!

Gary Chester sat next Aleda. To her, this little restaurant—so happy was she!—swim in a golden light!

The food they ate—she only toyed with her portion, quite unaware of what she was eating—was as the ambrosia of the gods! She sipped a little wine, just to be in the fashion and not appear conspicuous—although she required no stimulant, with Gary's eyes upon her. This wasn't wine! It was nectar of the gods!

He whispered to her, under cover of the general talk:

"Tomorrow at four, I'll call for you at the hotel. You're booked—from then on—with me!"

Breath catching in her throat she answered: "But I'm busy! I'm here to work—I'm Mr. Lingard's secretary!"

Said Gary: "I've already fixed the matter with Lingard. It's in order." Then, his fine eyes—warm and ardent—on her pretty, flushed young face, he added, sotto voce:

"There are so many things I have to say to you! Aleda . . . we're going to sail down the river Seine . . . by moonlight! . . . and dine together . . . you and I . . . in the beautiful forest of Saint Cloud!"

Love's Ecstasy

by May Christie

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR.

ALEDA RAY, pretty country girl working in New York as a secretary, and Gary Chester, young engineer, are in love. Aleda is living with Marise de Rense and the latter's young sophisticated sister, Goldie. Through jealousy, Goldie creates a break between Aleda and Gary. W. B. Lingard, employer of Aleda and Gary, after years of search meets Marise, sweetheart of his youth. Eavesdropping, Goldie learns that Marise is not her sister—but her mother! She demands an explanation and Marise pours out the story of her tragic early marriage to a convict who has since died. Goldie leaves home. Aleda, visiting her parents in the country, meets Gary. Love blooms anew. Gary sails for Italy on a business trip. Later, Lingard is forced to make a hurried trip to Paris and takes Aleda along as secretary. His niece, the Countess Dellamanna, acting as chaperone. They arrive in Paris.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER LIII.

ALEDA—in her bedroom in the Ritz Hotel in Paris—stood before the long pier-glass and surveyed herself.

She had donned the rose taffeta robe de style that was so eminently becoming, which Marise had insisted that she purchase in New York before sailing.

Was it because she looked so beautiful, and knew that from the top of her shining head to her dainty slippers she was "just right" that Aleda was smiling and starchy-eyed tonight?

Or was it that down in the foyer—waiting for William B. Lingard's party—was none other than Gary Chester, the young man of her heart?

She dabbed a touch of powder on that pretty face of hers—tentatively fluffing out an extra curl. "O-o-oh! I'm so happy!" She stretched her two bare arms out, wide, as though encompassing the whole world.

The phone rang sharply. Came a volley of words in rapid male French.

A message from downstairs? She caught the name—"Lee-nard!" "They're waiting!" she told herself—took up a slim little wrap that her own clever fingers had fashioned from a strip of satin—a small evening bag Marise had given her as a "steamer present"—went out to the elevator, and so downstairs.

William B. Lingard moved to meet her. An affable, a fatherly smile was on his unusually grim face. He had just finished fifteen minutes' conversation with young Gary Chester—enough to show what a first-class proposition was the Bianchi Water Power! The report from Chester had been excellent. His own opinion had been verified!

Therefore, the financier was in a benign mood.

"Mr. Chester has just been telling me that you and he are old friends." He placed a kind hand on Aleda's arm, and led her toward the tall, handsome young man in evening dress.

Never had this mouse-like little secretary looked so pretty or so animated, he decided. There was an incandescent, inward beauty to-night that lighted the small, delicately-featured face.

Was it possible—he gave a quick glance from one to the other—that this child was sweet on Gary Chester?—that the young fellow was fascinated by the little secretary?

William B. Lingard beamed again in great good humor. Business was excellent. Before leaving New York, he had had a romantic renewal with Marise Miller—known now as Marise de Rense—a long-ago sweetheart. She was a friend of Miss Ray's—she thought the world of this Aleda. For Marise's sake, and because life in general was rosy and they were in Paris, he would do everything to help this romance along.

He would give a further opportunity for meeting, to Chester (a very decent chap) and this young girl!

"My niece, the Countess, is on the Rue Cambon side of the hotel," announced William B. Lingard genially, "in other words, having a pre-dinner appetizer in the ladies' bar."

The Countess, it transpired, had run into many of her titled friends in the short space of time since her arrival. A spray of orchids on her shoulder, a bouquet of the same exotic blooms held in her lap, she was holding court among the cosmopolites.

And she was radiant! This was the playground of the world! This was the metier she loved!

If only—only—

But wasn't there a fly in every ointment? What would life be without the lure, the urge, of the one thing held back?

The party went to Circo's. They were joined there by the Vicomte Cerno, an old friend of Lingard's.

Circo's is perhaps the most expensive—and certainly the most famous—restaurant in Paris. Just off the rue de la Paix, its little pink sign juts out into the rue Danou, and through its exclusive portals step many interesting folks, including royalties.

At Aleda's elbow (in her simple little frock, she was the loveliest girl in Paris! thought young Chester) was the assiduous young man.

"Passee"—like a gardenia whose petals have been touched by unkind fingers!—was the Countess Dellamanna, in comparison with this radiant young loveliness, to-night!

Wearing a red rose in his lapel, and a monocle, the manager greeted the new arrivals courteously.

In the Paris Circo's there are two dining rooms, a large and small one. The Viscomte Cerno had an old and famous title. So had the Countess Dellamanna. Lingard was reputed very wealthy. The manager did not hesitate for the fraction of a second. Into the more intimate, exclusive, smaller room the party was piloted!

Gary Chester sat next Aleda. To her, this little restaurant—so happy was she!—swim in a golden light!

The food they ate—she only toyed with her portion, quite unaware of what she was eating—was as the ambrosia of the gods! She sipped a little wine, just to be in the fashion and not appear conspicuous—although she required no stimulant, with Gary's eyes upon her. This wasn't wine! It was nectar of the gods.

He whispered to her, under cover of the general talk: "Tomorrow at four, I'll call for you at the hotel. You're booked—from then on—with me!"

Breath catching in her throat she answered: "But I'm busy! I'm here to work—I'm Mr. Lingard's secretary!"

Said Gary: "I've already fixed the matter with Lingard. It's in order." Then, his fine eyes—warm and ardent—on her pretty, flushed young face, he added, sotto voce:

"There are so many things I have to say to you! Aleda . . . we're going to sail down the river Seine . . . by moonlight! . . . and dine together . . . you and I . . . in the beautiful forest of Saint Cloud!"
